

After receiving calls from 8:00am to 11:00pm, I immediately signed up to be placed on Indiana's "No Call" List. Our home used to receive more than 6 calls per day. Answering the phone multiple times a day while handling a newborn makes for major disruptions to my family life. I should not have to be afraid to answer the phone for fear that I am going to be harassed by yet another solitator. The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. The peace that my family has experienced due to the privacy law is unmeasurable. Thank you for the opportunity to voice my concerns on diminishing the protections currently stated in Indiana's Telephone Privacy law.
